

An archaeological excavation of a circular feature, possibly a well or a large pit, in a dark, textured soil. A red and white striped scale bar is placed horizontally across the top of the feature. A small white label with black text is positioned in the center of the feature. The surrounding area is composed of light-colored, loose soil and debris.

OPQ-93
SA DE
MURALLA